About the speaker: Eucharía Donnery

Eucharía has lived in Japan since 1998, and has been committed to education in various teaching capacities. She currently works for the Department of Applied Computer Sciences and Shonan Institute of Technology teaching communication through drama and Computer Assisted Language Learning (CALL). The backdrop to her PhD research was cultural similarities between Japan and Ireland. Growing up in Ireland, she witnessed how the once marginalized disabled community has gained voice and recognition in Ireland, as seen by the success of the Paralympic Ireland Team.

※ Due to the limited seating capacity, we may have to ask you to stand in case of full house.
